

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR FIELDPARTNER ENGLISH

FieldPartner International seeks a visionary Executive Director.

FieldPartner International is seeking a visionary Executive Director to lead the English side of our organisation into its next season. The successful candidate will provide clear vision and strategic direction, building on strong foundations while guiding FieldPartner English toward sustainable growth and deeper global impact.

About FieldPartner

FieldPartner is a Texas-registered 501(c)3 not-for-profit entity, operating across several continents and national boundaries. We exist to prepare and strengthen those whom God has called to serve cross-culturally.

Our vision is to see thousands of field workers remain healthy, resilient, and effective in the places where God has called them to serve. We are committed to global partnership, learning from emerging sending nations and walking alongside indigenous mission workers. We believe God's mission is global, and so is the community that serves it

Around the world, an estimated 425,000 missionaries are serving in cross-cultural contexts, many without the preparation or support needed to sustain long-term ministry. High levels of attrition mean workers often leave the field early for avoidable reasons. FieldPartner responds to this need by equipping and supporting cross-cultural workers with practical tools, trusted relationships, and a growing global reach.

FieldPartner also has a separate Chinese language division with whom you would be expected to work as colleagues together, sharing resources and ideas.
